MATSYA SAMĀNA PRĀṆA KRIYĀ

The action for samāna prāṇa

The action for the centred energy of consciousness. It shows the middle, this is the place from where you can rise. When you can hold the centre, you can be where you need to be.

Approximately 20 minutes.

Bhastrikā

Sit down in vajrāsana or any other comfortable sitting posture, bring your breath to rest.

Iḍā bhastrikā – Elevate your head and venerate your solar plexus, imagine the sun being in your belly, be thankful. Close your right nostril and perform bhastrikā 30 times through your left nostril, in the end perform ajgari – inhale, hold, exhale, hold and relax. Take yourself time before you continue.

Madhya bhastrikā – Then perform madhya bhastrikā (central bellows breath) one last time in the centre through both nostrils. Keep straight. In the end perform ajgari again.

Śaśankāsana

Rabbit pose. From vajrāsana. Stretch up, bend forward to śaśankāsana and surrender yourself. Stretch your arms.

Practice with deep pulsing kapālabhāti for one minute, relax.

Uṣṭrāsana

Camel pose. Move from parvatāsana slowly into vajrāsana. Breathe deeply, then move into uṣṭrāsana or ardha uṣṭrāsana. Push yourself deep into the āsana, as if falling into the sky. Your breathing must be deep.

Practice with kapālabhāti or 10 deep breaths. In the end stretch your arms out and relax in śaśankāsana.

Śaśank Bhujāṅgāsana

Striking cobra pose. Then gently come back to vajrāsana. Stretch up, bend forward to śaśankāsana and again surrender yourself. Stretch your arms. From there move into bhujāṅgāsana with your face close to the ground. Do so when breathing in. Breathe out and move back to bhujāṅgāsana. Do this at a gentle pace.

Practice about 10 times, then relax in vajrāsana.

Parvatāsana

Mountain pose or downward facing dog. Move into parvatāsana, stretch deeply into this āsana, taking time to find the right alignment. Here be aware that your feet are closed. This centres the energy. Breathe in and start with kapālabhāti.

Practice for about 30–60 seconds with kapālabhāti. Then relax in śaśankāsana

Vāyu Niṣkāśana

Freeing the wind pose. Come into squatting pose and hold the inside of your ankles — thumbs above and fingers underneath the feet. Inhale in squatting pose, straighten your back and let your head fall backwards, gazing upward. Inwardly hold your breath for three seconds and perform mūlabandha. Then exhale, straighten your legs and bend forward gazing inwardly. Hold your breath outwardly for three seconds and perform mūlabandha.

Move with the rhythm of your deep breathing for more than one minute.

Siṃhagarjanāsana

Roaring lion's pose. Again in vajrāsana, open your knees sideways. Bring your hands to the ground in front of you with your palms on the ground and your hands turned inwardly. Open your chest and stick out your tongue. Focus both of your eyes inwardly to your brow. Breathe out through your mouth and in through the nose. Breathing out you contract your lower belly, sphincter and genital muscles. If you do this consciously it will centre the energy.

You are just like a slowly burning fire, you will burn forever. You are the centre of gravity.

Perform siṃhagarjanāsana for about 30–60 seconds with deep breathing, relax in vajrāsana with your chin pressed at the chest.

Śīrṣāsana

Headstand. From vajrāsana lean forward into śaśankāsana and fold your hands over the back of your head. Slowly and methodically follow the classical guide to come into śīrṣāsana. Be gentle and slow, and use the wall for support if necessary.

Never do more than what you feel safe with. When you come back, relax in śaśankāsana.

Perform śīrṣāsana for about 30 seconds with deep breathing. Be very alert and centred, feel like lightning stretched to the sky.

Bīja nyāsa

Sit in meditation posture with your hands outstretched and fixed. Perform mūlabandha at the beginning of each sound. Perform our bīja nyāsa.

Finally, perform namaskāra mudrā and breathe deeply.

Śavāsana

Corpse pose. Lay on your back with your palms facing upwards. Contemplate the following: I am happy. Wherever life is, this is where I am.
